QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Suggested text for faith sharing: Today's Gospel

Adults – The Gospel today invites us to serve and to be hospitable. When did you welcome Jesus into your home through the presence of a neighbor or a stranger?

Youth – Martha chose to serve, Mary chose to sit at Jesus' feet and listen to Him. Of those two actions, service or prayer, which do you feel more comfortable with? Why?

Children – Name a time when you shared what you had with a friend, or a classmate at school

HELPING HANDS PRAYER: Through strangers in need, O Lord our God, You gave Abraham and Sarah the promise of a child. In the person of Jesus You graced the home of Martha and Mary with Your living Word. Let your gracious presence in word and at table remind us that one thing only is necessary, and that in those to whom we offer hospitality, it is You whom we receive as a guest. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, Your Son, Who lives and reigns with You in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God for ever and ever. Amen.

TICKET RETURNS FOR THE PARISH RAFFLE can be made via the collection basket or mailed to the parish office. Congratulations to our final monthly drawing winner for 2019—#1881 Kady Lehr, New Oxford PA; sold by Mike Dale

THE FAMILY SOCIETY FOOD BOOTH — The Cochranon Community Fair will be here soon and the Our Lady of Lourdes Food Booth needs your help!!!! We are in need of volunteers to work shifts. The first shift runs 2:30-6:30pm and the second from 6:15pm to closing, which is typically between 10-10:30pm. We are hoping to find someone who would be willing to assist with closing nightly. Please be sure to sign up on the Our Lady of Lourdes bulletin board to help or call 425-2463 to sign up. The proceeds from the booth directly benefit our church; many hands will make this fundraiser a success.

WHOLE COMMUNITY CATECHESIS

CATECHESIS

Catechesis is an act of handing on the Word of God and to inform the faith community and the church about the teachings of Christ, as handed on from the Apostles. Catechesis involves a lifelong effort of forming people into witnesses of Christ and opening them to the Holy Spirit. We have many resources to form us, beginning with the Catechism of the Catholic Church, as well as many other good resources and textbooks to learn from.

The reason for writing about Catechesis (Faith Formation) is that we are in need of people who are interested in handing on our faith and teaching of Christ. We need people who have an interest in learning more themselves and those who would give of their gift of faith to our young people at both churches. We also offer many resources for our adult community with programs that are offered throughout the year. We have small groups for our Lenten series and a year-round Bible Study group which welcomes newcomers to come to share their faith and study the Scriptures for the next Sunday's readings. Let us not forget the people who are interested in joining our church or who have been away for awhile and would like to learn more by attending our Rite of Christian Initiation (RCIA) process. If anyone is interested in becoming a Catechist, please call Joyce Tarr at 814-671-1009.

What is your experience of giving yourself and your heart to Jesus? Speak to Jesus in prayer asking Him for the Grace to be the person who tells others about your happiness of living with his love surrounding you. That is what being a Catechist is.

JOT

Community— Me, You and Us

Community is central to good liturgy. Often it is seen as a social rather than a theological issue. But it's really both. God meets us where we are, amidst family, neighbors and strangers. The cross serves as a metaphor both for our relationship with God (the vertical beam) and our relationship with the community (the horizontal beam). Both are needed for liturgy to function well. So, our way of approaching liturgy represents an important choice. Do we see mass from a perspective of me, you or us?

From the me perspective, we look for things that we ourselves want. We may evaluate the physical look of the church and want more statues, or fewer; more traditional art, or more contemporary art. What about the style of music we prefer? Do we want more organ, or less; more guitar, or less? Is a 10 minute homily too long? Is five minutes too short? What about the length of mass? Is an hour too long? An African priest once said: "If mass doesn't last two hours, the people feel I haven't done my job very well." All of these expectations raise the question of whether the culture itself supports or hinders good liturgy.

Approaching mass from the me place may lead to an "I don't get anything out of it" feeling. On the other hand, the frequent response: "You get out of it what you put into it" can easily create expectations of others. This is a you approach. You may want others to be quiet or leave you alone. Or, you may want them to engage you with a cheery "Good morning." Because we have little control over the outcome, the you approach, like the me approach, often leaves us dissatisfied and disgruntled.

Eucharistic liturgy, often called the Sacrament of Unity, is communal by design. We are to join our prayer with the prayer of the priest, and as the General Instruction of the Roman Missal says, "learn to offer ourselves." Following the consecration, we pray with the priest that we may all be one in the Body of Christ. Does this mean that we lose our individuality? No. It helps us recognize that we ourselves and the community are included in this family of God. How can we do that if we approach the liturgy from the me perspective?

An us approach to liturgy can help us find deeper meaning in the ritual. Coming to mass with an openness to what the church asks leads us to pose different questions, such as "How do we pray together?" It helps us to be open to God's presence "where two or three are gathered."

The opening song, whether played on our favorite instrument or not, leads us to reflect on what we celebrate. Joining in song with others helps us recognize our place in the community.

The liturgical environment, whether crowded or sparse, reminds us that God created the world, the flowers and the greenery. We decorate with nature's gifts each season to give thanks and to remember God's presence. A larger view of the environment leads us to be aware of the people around us, God's people — even those who have died.

The readings and the homily, whether long or short, bring us to understand that we are called to be Christ in this world and that our lives are connected to the community. The prayers for unity in the liturgy guide us to grow beyond ourselves and become more aware of the Body of Christ.

Liturgy calls us to be concerned for the other, to be more tolerant, to be more selfless. This ongoing conversion extends from the baptism that welcomed us into God's family, where our journey with Christ began. We still journey, the liturgy reminds us. We are moving toward Christ. We are becoming more like him, more united with him. Good liturgy reminds us that the community walks with us on this journey.
