QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Suggested text for faith sharing: Today's Gospel

Adults – How can you prepare yourself to be nourished by Jesus in the Eucharist this week?

Youth – Each week, when we celebrate the Holy Eucharist we are asked to “do this in remembrance of me.” How else do you acknowledge the importance of Jesus in your life? Through prayer? Through the ways that you treat others?

Children – How can you share what you have received from Jesus with others this week?

HELPING HANDS PRAYER: Blessed are You, God most high, maker of heaven and earth, Whose covenant with Abraham is a blessing of peace for all the peoples of earth, and Whose covenant in Jesus nourishes and sustains all who hunger for the bread of life. As often as we eat the bread and drink the cup that proclaim the Lord's death, let the love of Christ compel us to hand on to others, without judgment or measure, the blessings we ourselves have received so generously at Your hand. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, Your Son, Who lives and reigns with You in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God for ever and ever. Amen.

WHOLE COMMUNITY CATECHESIS

COMMUNITY AND GROWTH

by Jean Vanier

Jean Vanier, founder of L'Arche communities for adults with disabilities, recently died in May. Below are a few of his quotes which explain Community and Growth.

"A community is only being created when its members accept that they are not going to achieve great things, that they are not going to be heroes, but simply live each day with new hope, like children, in wonderment as the sun rises and in thanksgiving as it sets. Community is only being created when they have recognized that the greatness of man is to accept his insignificance, his human condition and his earth, and to thank God for having put in a finite body the seeds of eternity which are visible in small and daily gestures of love and forgiveness. The beauty of man is in this fidelity to the wonder of each day."

---Community and Growth

"As a growing community must integrate three elements: a life of silent prayer, a life of service and above all of listening to the poor, and community life through which all its members can grow in their own gift."

---Community and Growth

"A community that is growing rich and seeks only to defend its goods and its reputation is dying, it has ceased to grow in love. A community is alive when it is poor and its members feel they have to work together and remain united, if only to ensure that they can all eat tomorrow."

---Community and Growth

"Each person with his or her history of being accepted or rejected, with his or her past history of inner pain and difficulties in relationships with parents, is different. But in each one there is yearning for communion and belonging, but at the same time a fear of it. Love is what we want, yet it is what we fear the most. Love makes us vulnerable and open, but then we can be hurt through rejection and separation. We may crave for love, but then be frightened of losing our liberty and creativity. We want to belong to a group but we fear a certain death in the group because we may not be seen as unique. We want love, but fear the dependence and commitment it implies; we fear being used, manipulated, smothered and spoiled. We are all so ambivalent toward love, community and belonging."

In the face of our country's challenges, and challenges within the Church herself, Catholics find strength in the hope of Jesus Christ. We want to share that hope with everyone.

Religious freedom gives us the space to carry out the mission that Jesus has entrusted to the Church. Religious freedom means that Catholics, and all people of goodwill, are free to seek the truth and to live in accordance with that truth, and so to strengthen our common life as a nation.

Beginning June 22, the Feast of Saints Thomas More and John Fisher, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops celebrates Religious Freedom Week. In the midst of our current challenges, join us as we seek the kingdom and find Strength in Hope.
