Honoring our Veterans

On that day, let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air, and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us re-consecrate ourselves to the task of promoting and enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain."— 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Veterans Day proclamation.

On the 11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month of 1918, bugle calls signaled the 'cease fire' ending the First World War. (The official Armistice was signed earlier that morning.) To those who endured it, WWI was the "Great War", "the War to End All Wars." Tragically, an even greater conflict consumed the world just two decades later. Today, 104 years after the end of WWI, Americans mark the anniversary of the WWI Armistice as "Veterans Day". In Canada, it is known as Remembrance Day. On this solemn occasion, we honor all those who have served in the military in times of war and peace. Thank you for your service to our nation and the world.

At each of the Masses on Sunday, November 06, we will honor our veterans by extending a special blessing to them as an expression of our gratitude and respect for their sacrifice.

St. Catherine Jesse Tree/St. Michael Giving Tree

Reading 2	2 Thessalonians 1:11-2:-2 (Exhortation to faithfulness)
Gospel Key	Luke 19:1-10 (Zacchaeus the tax collector) And Jesus said to Zacchaeus, "Today salvation has come to this house, because he too is a son of Abraham. For the Son of Man came to seek out and to save the lost." (Luke 18:4-5)
Adults:	During the next week, what could you do to welcome someone who usually feels excluded?
Children:	Is there a child in your class or neighborhood who is left out of games and activities? What can you do?

Fr. Ben Daghir's Corner

I recently had a parishioner ask me about my priest card. The card has an image of the crucifix (which is a picture of a stained-glass window at St. Mary's Seminary & University in Baltimore). The backside of the card has two quotes from Archbishop Fulton Sheen. The first quote reads "The crucifix is an autobiography in which man can read the story of his own life, either to his own salvation or his own condemnation." The second quote states "It becomes for each his autobiography. The skin of Christ is the parchment, His blood the ink, the nails the pen. There we see written the story of our life."

The parishioner asked, "Why the image of the crucifix?" and "Why these quotations?" The cross is the only anchor worth holding onto. Nothing else offered in this universe is ultimately worth clinging to with all one's might. There are many things in this world which promise comfort, peace, security, nourishment, and so much more. None of them ever live up to the promise though. Only the Cross has lived up to what it promises. Concerning the second question, the quotations remind us that we find our true identity through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ. This is because Jesus is the perfect human being. We now know what authentic humanity looks like. Humanity is built for love, sacrifice, and charity. Humanity becomes most happy when it gives itself away in love for others. The cross takes us to the ground zero of who we really are and who we are called to be.

Lastly, many people have tried to write their story with many styles of ink (wealth, honor, power, pleasure). Those stories are boring. Our story must be written with the Cross. Even better, we should let Christ write our respective stories. The Catholic saints always have two very unique characteristics to their stories. First, God writes their story, they do not. Second, the stories are always written in red ink because they have lived lives of love, sacrifice, and charity. And, I forgot to mention - the Catholic saints are also the happiest people to have ever lived.
