Fr. Ben Daghir's Corner

It's officially school time. Students from across the country either have started or will start school this Monday morning. As a result, I would like to take a moment and reflect upon the word "education."

The word "education" means "to lead out." The definition is relatively simple: to be led out of a limited worldview into a broader worldview, to be led out of incomprehension into comprehension, to be led out of misunderstanding into understanding, and so forth.

An authentic education leads us out of ourselves. It challenges, directs, and motivates us toward something much greater than ourselves. Plato, in his great Allegory of the Cave, utilizes this image rather well. Those who really "know" are the ones led out of the cave of distraction, mere appearance, etc., and into the realm of clearly seeing and interpreting reality.

Consider the student who will learn how to read and, in the next few weeks, will be filled with joy while reading a book to her mom and dad. Consider the student who takes Calculus or Physics this fall and is intrigued by the sheer brilliance of the subject. The student will even find himself searching for potential professions which require knowledge of these subjects.

Consider the student who takes a foreign language and is filled with excitement to meet new people in a new culture. Consider the student who learns a new style of art and her creative imagination is ignited. Consider the junior in high school who (currently undergoing a knee injury) is taking an anatomy course and feels a great call to consider a profession that helps others to heal from a similar injury. All of these examples are of students being led out in one way or another.

It's quite a remarkable thing to consider that the next lesson, the next idea, the next class period, the next example from a teacher, or the next school day will be the moment that a student is led out toward his/her authentic mission in life.

Fr. Ben Daghir

ALPHA 2023

Try Alpha! The Alpha Course will be offered again this fall, starting Wednesday, September 13th. Alpha is a wonderful opportunity to journey through the foundational teachings of the Christian faith and form community with others. It allows us to discuss the big questions of our faith like, "Who is Jesus? How Can I Pray? How Can I Tell Others? Is There More to Life Than This?" Past guests on Alpha have consistently stated that their experience created a loving relationship with Jesus, strengthened their existing faith, created a newfound understanding of the Holy Spirit, helped them pray and read the Bible, introduced them to new friends, and motivated them to be active in their faith. Alpha is an 11-week course, where each night guests are provided a dinner, listen to a short video presentation, and participate in small group discussions. The course is free of charge and will be from 6:30-8:30 p.m. each week at the Foundry in Reynoldsville. Alpha is available for all parishioners, friends, and family of all faith backgrounds from 18 years old and up. To register or find out more, please visit the link on the parish website under the title "Alpha," or call the parish office.

Please use this link or call St. Catherine Parish office to register. <https://tinyurl.com/DRCCAlpha23Signup>
