Honoring our Military Chaplains

This week on November 11th, we observe Veterans Day. It's a holiday honoring men and women who have served in the U.S. armed forces. It is an appropriate time to honor our Catholic military chaplains who are servants of both Church and country.

Father Christopher Christensen offers his thoughts on being a Catholic military chaplain:

"In few other places does a Catholic priest find himself in ministry to men and women training for, going to, and returning from war. The particular difficulties of military life, whether family related, job related, or battle related, place a particular strain on military personnel. The military chaplain has to bring spiritual tools to help God be welcomed by military personnel at the deepest level."

Four Catholic military chaplains have received the Medal of Honor since the Civil War:

- Father Joseph Timothy O'Callahan (Lt. Cmdr. U.S. Navy - WWII)
- Father Emil J. Kapaun (Capt. U.S. Army – Korean War)
- Father Charles Joseph Watters (Major U.S. Army – Vietnam)
- Father Vincent Robert Capodanno (Lt. U.S. Navy – Vietnam)

Three Catholic military chaplains are on the path to sainthood:

- Father Emil J. Kapaun
- Father Joseph Verbis Lafleur
- Father Vincent Robert Capodanno

Four Catholic military chaplains have been recognized for bravery in the line of duty with U.S. Navy ships named in their honor:

- Father Aloysius H. Schmitt – USS Schmitt (Destroyer Escort)
- Father Joseph T. O'Callahan – USS O'Callahan (Destroyer Escort)
- Father Vincent R. Capodanno – USS Capodanno (Destroyer Escort)
- Father John Francis Laboon, SJ – USS Laboon (Guided Missile Destroyer)

Let us remember to say special prayers of thanks for all those who have served our country as we remember them this Veterans Day.

Deacon Paul

Susie and her husband Don are in the process of moving to Ohio to be closer to their family. Susie has been an wonderful asset to our parish in many ways and she will be greatly missed. We are sad to see her go, but excited for her to be able to spend more time with her family!

We would now like to welcome Cassie Adamczyk to her new position as Faith Formation Leader. Cassie is excited and enthusiastic about her new position and we are very happy and grateful to have her!
