From the Pastor's Desk

My dear parish family:

What does the Holy Trinity look like? When we were younger – how was this awesome and honestly, incomprehensible (this side of Heaven) mystery of love, Who is the Father, Son and Spirit – explained to us? As I just stated, we will never know or experience the Trinity is their true and amazing glory completely, this side of eternity. On this Sunday after Pentecost, when the Church honors in a specific way the Blessed Trinity – take a look at these three images below. Perhaps one of them speaks to your heart and your faith journey thus far more than the other two or maybe, some piece of each come together for a fuller picture – just like the Trinity itself. Confused yet? Well, we are all in good company! May our search for the true vision of Trinity, which will be realized in heavenly glory, continue here on earth together - at home - when we are away - nut especially when we are here at Mass.

*May the blessing of Almighty God,
Who is the Father, and the Son, and The Holy Spirit descend upon you and remain with you forever. Amen.*

Are you being called to serve?

Faith formation is recruiting volunteers for the upcoming year. Serving in children's ministry can have a lifelong impact on young lives.

Dr. Amanda Straub, children's liturgy leader was asked, "Why do you teach?"

"I volunteer my time for the children's liturgy program because seeing the wonder of God through a child's eyes is incredibly powerful and humbling. I think some weeks these children teach me more than I teach them! It also allows me to share God's love for ALL of us with our youngest church members, who will someday grow up to be leaders in our communities. Starting them with a strong foundation is so important in today's world!"

If you are interested in making an impact, call the rectory at 814-772-3135.
